TEACHERS APPEAL

COUNTY SUPERVISORS GRANT HEARING ON INCREASED BUDGET FOR SCHOOLS

Alton M. Brooks of 211 South Jackson street, this city, was one of the spokesmen at a hearing granted by the Board of County Supervisors Friday morning to members of the Los Angeles High School Teachers' Association, of which Mr. Wheeler of Hollywood is president, and the Elementary Teachers' Association of the county, of which Miss Vandevore is president.

The object of the appeal was to place before the Supervisors the need of increasing the salaries of teachers to meet in some degree the increased cost of living. Statistics presented showed that the purchasing power of a dollar is only fifty per cent of what it was before the war. Mr. Brooks showed that where railroad employes had been increased 30 to 35 per cent, teachers were working on the same schedule and with the war work introduced into the schools were working much harder than ever before. He also reported that the salaries of teachers in eastern schools had been advanced thirty to fifty per cent, and that California was the only state which had lagged in this regard. The increase asked for was but five per cent. Capable educators who have come here from the east would be getting $500 to $1000 more than they are receiving here, he declared, and if some effort is not made to adjust salaries they will leave this coast and return to the east, which, in Mr. Brooks' judgment would diminish the efficiency of the schools. While it is true that teachers can always be secured to fill any vacancy, he contends that low salaries will rob our schools of high class men and the schools will suffer.

President Woodley conducted the inquiry and asked a variety of questions which showed his interest in the subject. The extra expense of the five per cent advance asked for, Mr. Brooks explained, would cost the average taxpayer but $1.50 to $2.00 a year, and he reminded the supervisors that President Wilson has urged that the efficiency of the schools be maintained in order that the United States may be ready for the period of reconstruction which will follow the war, because it will be necessary that our people be capable of doing their work efficiently and effectively if they are to preserve the principle for which we are fighting, the principle of democracy. The Supervisors indicated they were in favor of granting the increase if it could be done and they agreed to take the matter under advisement and to report to the committee at a later date.

It is the opinion of the editor of the Evening News that the capable, honest, working teacher can not receive too high a salary, but there are the make-shift teachers whose salaries are too high even if they should get pay that would not equal more than bare living expenses. Is it not a fact that good workmen seldom need to go before the powers that be and ask for increased salaries?

STOLEN CAR RECOVERED

W. E. Evans, City Attorney, and Mrs. Evans had quite a scare in the temporary loss of their automobile yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Evans had driven to Los Angeles to attend the Galli-Curci concert at the Shrine Auditorium and was accompanied by her house guest, Mrs. B. F. Logan of Kentucky, and Mrs. H. P. Goodwin of Tenth street. The car was left in front of the Auditorium and when the ladies came out after the concert, it was gone. Mrs. Evans acted in a very collected way and promptly reported the matter to the police. This morning the report came from Los Angeles that it had been found and she has gone to the city presumably to identify the machine. It was a Buick, 1917 Model D 45, and was purchased last October, its motor number being 202728 and frame number 204826.

HEAR NOTED SINGER

A number of Glendale ladies went to Los Angeles Friday afternoon to hear Galli-Curci, the wonderful soprano singer, at the Shrine Auditorium. The list included Mrs. William Harvey, Jr., of Tropico avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Duffield and Mrs. Oilver Merrill of Lomita avenue, Mrs. H. P. Goodwin of Tenth street, Mrs. W. E. Evans of Orange street and others. Mrs. Harvey reports that she is most wonderful, with a sweet, birdlike voice, said to be more like Jennie Lind than any singer since her time, and also a gracious manner and quaint costume like that great artist.

P. E. O. ENTERTAINS

State Reciprocity Day was observed Friday afternoon by Chapter B. A. of the P. E. O. of this city, at the home of Mrs. C. B. Wilde, 1331 Milford street, who was assisted by Mrs. Harry Parker.

The rooms in which the ladies were entertained were beautifully decorated in the colors of the Order, yellow and white, a great bowl of yellow coreopsis dominating the dining room, while in the living room Japanese lilies and marguerites were used.

After a few words by the president, Mrs. A. M. Parker, who called the ladies to order, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Freeman Kelley, who had charge of the program.

Mrs. Gladys Gibbs Sherman gave several vocal numbers which were enthusiastically encored, her list of songs including the quaint little English folk-song, "Madame will you walk and talk with me," and the patriotic "Joan of Arc." Mrs. Sherman was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Gibbs, who also contributed a Mendelssohn composition as a piano solo.

Mrs. E. H. Willisford, who came from Claremont to attend the meeting, read a selection from Richard Harding Davis called "The Boy Scout."

The program was concluded by two quite wonderful patriotic recitations by little Miss Mary Young.

About thirty guests were present, including several from out of town, and simple refreshments were served in which the yellow and white color scheme was carried out.

CHANGES IN LOCAL DRAFT

Guy Stellar, of 139 South Belmont street, who was called to go with the eight men to be sent by the Exemption Board to Fort McDowell Monday night, has been excused from this draft because he has been appointed to an officer's training school at Fort Winfield Scott, Presidio, San Francisco.

Leslie Patch of 323 Belmont street has been granted a sixty-day extension because of a defective knee.

The places of the two men named above will be taken by Frank Leroy Jepson of 648 Lincoln avenue, Glendale, and Samuel Harrison Brown of 5120 Stocker street, Casa Verdugo.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Sunday. Westerly winds.

MANY KILLED AND WOUNDED WHEN BLAST WRECKS PLANT OF AETNA CHEMICAL CO. IN PENNSYLVANIA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PITTSBURGH, May 18.—Over five hundred war workers were killed and injured in a terrific blast of T. N. T. that wrecked the Aetna Chemical company's plant at Oakdale this afternoon. It is believed a hundred and seventy are dead and four hundred injured. The plant was a complete wreck, nearby towns were wrecked and every window in Oakdale broken. A later explosion wrecked the T. N. T. office building, but it is believed all the workers had left before the second blast. A nurse who was working in the neighborhood had both legs cut off at the knee by a flying girder in the second explosion. An investigation of the cause of the explosion is being made. It is feared that all who were in the plant were killed or injured. Drug stores and homes were turned into hospitals and wheelbarrows and wagons were used as ambulances in gathering the victims over a wide radius.

SCHOLARLY LECTURE

Under the auspices of the British Ambulance Society at the home of Mr. and Mrs. England, 1220 Burchett street, a most scholarly lecture was given by Miss Smallpage Thursday evening. The lecture was preceded by a number of musical selections. Miss Carter of Cathedral sang two numbers that were thoroughly enjoyed. Mr. Clark rendered "When the Boys Come Home" in a truly patriotic manner, responding to an encore by singing "Marjorie Green." Mr. England recited "The Little Stowaway," which was most pleasing to the audience.

The chairman of the evening, Mrs. Edgar W. Pack, newly elected president of the Society, introduced the speaker, Miss Smallpage. This talented lecturer, vitally interested in and connected with the "Israel League of London," temporarily left this institution to enter upon recruiting for Red Cross. On a previous visit to Glendale she talked on war conditions and war relief work, but this lecture dealt with the gradual and permanent welding together of the Anglo-American race, the union of which means the strengthening of ties of mutual understanding, fellowship and confidence which forever will unite them. Beginning with the fall of man, the covenant made with Abraham, the history of the tribes of Judah and Israel, all were traced through their various wanderings, according to statistics gathered from prophetic history. The dispersion of and final work given to the Lost Ten Tribes, the obligations and responsibilities of the Anglo-American race. Each point was given with a precision and authority that showed the prophecy of the ages was being now fulfilled, and left no possible doubt as to the result of this world war now being waged.

This masterly grasp of a deep subject left the audience with a further desire to study more along these lines and books were suggested as guides for study.

The national airs were sung as a fitting close to an educative evening.

VISITING GLENDALE

Mrs. L. Byrkit of Corona is the guest this week of her sister, Mrs. Ella Dinwiddie, and of her niece, Mrs. Eckman of North Glendale. Mrs. Byrkit has many acquaintances in this city as she once spent a winter here. Her nephew, Mr. Eckman, is with the American Expeditionary Force in France.

NINETY-FOUR YEARS

MRS. ELIZA SMITH STEWART HONORED ON BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

One of the pleasant social events of the week in Glendale was the reception given in honor of Mrs. Eliza Smith Stewart on the occasion of her ninety-fourth birthday, at her home, 1103 Lomita avenue.

The company who came to extend to Mrs. Stewart their congratulations were entertained by a short history of the long and harmonious, though active and eventful, life, which elicited from the little hostess a recipe for attaining to a youthful old age, and which consisted of ever carrying a pure and light heart, with a mind stored with useful knowledge, an aspiration for spiritual attainment with an ever-present devotion toward the improvement of the human race.

With a smile of pride she told of walking to the polls to cast her first presidential ballot, the crowning point of her forty years of advocacy of woman's suffrage and of temperance, adding: "Vote for Prohibition ladies, for I feel sure that on my hundredth natal day, Uncle Sam shall smile over a land of temperance and all the improvements it implies."

Speaking of the war, she told how her three sons had fought for the Union and are now disabled pensioners with little ones calling them grandpa.

"And now," she said sadly, "we are again in the throes of war, and this time too we shall be victorious. But alas for me, all I can now do is to encourage my soldier grand sons and pray that the day of righteous peace may be near at hand."

Congratulations were received from three sons, five daughters, twenty-five grandchildren, fifteen great grandchildren and three greatgreat-grandchildren.

The spacious reception room was set with flowers brought by the many friends and there was music and refreshments. The enjoyable affair concluded with the singing of the "Star-Spangled Banner" and the reading of a song composed by a distant daughter, and which read as follows:

BACK TO MOTHER'S ARMS

Oft in that fairyland of dreams,
Our barque goes sailing far, it seems,
O'er memory's sea to olden charms—
To childhood hours and mother's arms.

Mrs. Stewart is a native of New York State, of Puritan parentage, the youngest of a large family, all of whom lived to be grandparents. She came to Glendale from the East ten years ago and thinks our equable climate has had much to do with her lengthened years, she being able to walk out in the warm sunlight each day of the year. Bidding her friends good day said she with a gentle smile: "Keep in the light, ladies, keep in the light of love and truth and right."

AT THE COUNTY CONVENTION

Five representatives from the Central Christian Church returned this morning from the County Sunday School Convention which was held Thursday and Friday at Pomona. Those going from this church were Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Cole, Mrs. L. E. Berkey, Mrs. E. R. Best and O. L. Kilborn. Both Mr. and Mrs Cole gave addresses on special phases of Sunday School work.

STUDENT BODY ELECTION

The semi-annual Student Body election of the Glendale High School was held Friday. This election was very enthusiastic and exciting due to the fiery campaigns the various candidates held. Thursday campaign speeches were heard from all the candidates which made the result very much in doubt.

Secretary of Athletics—Thomas McIver.

Secretary of Order—Arville Williams.

THE ISSUE TURNS UPON MAN POWER

Editor Evening News,
Glendale, Cal.

Dear Sir:

Considerable curiosity as well as speculation has been rife as to why a professional man should turn to baking bread.

BE IT KNOWN that this planet at this very moment is face to face with a crisis affecting every man, woman and child, the terribleness and horror of which staggers the imagination.

THE ISSUE turns upon MAN POWER—The Man Power issue turns upon FOOD. The HEART OF THE FOOD PROBLEM is WHEAT—the Heart of the Food Problem is BREAD. ITALY today is almost without Bread, and a most serious situation confronts the world in the Food Situation in ITALY. If Italy goes down, the situation immediately becomes intensified and the menace to the security of the world from HUNISM greatly increased.

PROFITEERING at such a time as this should rightly be looked upon with deserved contempt and hatred.

THE POOR we have with us always—14-cent bread is working and will increasingly work a terrible hardship to the poor. With all the grain raised in this country, 14-cent bread is too much.

With Substitute Flours at a proper price, there is no reason why bread can not be made to sell at 10 cents per loaf.

The writer is showing his faith by his works—and has installed a modest grinding plant, so as to CHEAPEN SUBSTITUTE FLOURS. Of course it will not be the finely milled flours of the mills—but entirely good enough for patriotic men, women and children, at this time of the world's history.

Profiteering is so powerful in the human organism, that "APPEALS" fail to reach the situation.

A NEW PRINCIPLE—A NEW METHOD

The old principle is, make all the situation will permit. The new principle, MAKE AS LITTLE AS POSSIBLE AND KEEP GOING.

"APPEALS TO PATRIOTISM" do not reach the situation. Too many men are out for every dollar the situation makes possible.

ONLY PRACTICAL STRATEGICS that actually jumps into the situation will ever save the day from excessive prices—and this thing can be worked out for bread and for the poor.

Ten-cent bread made possible by a controlled substitute flour will save millions of people from untold hardships and suffering in these dreadful and awful times. Save wheat for the fighters—at the same time save the living situation for the poor in every community, who are everywhere in the majority. The rich do not need to be looked after. We need a patriotic ATMOSPHERE that shall help everybody to eat the less attractive foods.

Truly,

B. MIDDLEKAUFF.

SECOND RED CROSS WAR FUND CAMPAIGN

By Charles E. Van Loan

The second great Red Cross drive opens on Monday, and no better time could have been selected.

It opens with our boys on the battle front in France, massed to meet another sort of a drive—the desperate effort of the German troops to smash the line, cut the railway communication and reach the coast.

You expect those boys to hold their part of the line at any cost. They expect you to hold your end of the line here at home.

They must face the shells, the shrapnel, the leaden hail of German machine guns, the poison gas, the liquid fire, and every other savage horror of modern warfare.

And you? Why, you have only to face a mild and gentle Red Cross solicitor on your own peaceful street. Your end of the line is the easy one.

Do not explain to the Red Cross solicitor that you bought some Liberty Bonds and therefore feel that you have done your duty. You didn't give away anything when you took the bonds. You saved something. You loaned your money to the Government at a fair rate of interest, and you didn't take a single chance because that loan was backed by the best security on earth at the present time. Every dollar will come back to you, dragging interest behind it. You bought bonds, of course you did, but that was an investment, not a gift.

Look at the list of wounded and dead in the morning paper. Those boys did not loan their arms and legs and lives to the government. They gave them to the nation.

The time has come for you to give something. Give it with a smile. Do not wait for the solicitor to explain how much your money is needed. Make out your check and carry it down to the Red Cross Headquarters. Be thankful that you can thus take part in the greatest organized charity that the world has ever seen.

Red Cross and red tape do not go together. You will get immediate action on every dollar invested. The work is in the hands of loyal American men of affairs, who have closed their own offices until the end of the war in order that this job shall be hustled through. Your contribution will soon see active service, and your dollars will be spent where they can do the most good.

The boys on the other side are holding their end of the line.

Will you hold yours?

Men over military age, physically fit, of good moral character, can serve overseas in Y. M. C. A. war work. It is hard, dangerous work and the Y. M. C. A. needs at least 3000 men in the next ninety days.

Robert Gilbert Welsh, for twelve years dramatic editor of the New York Evening Telegram, is a Y. M. C. A. war work secretary covering the theatre of the war.

Miss Kate Pope, an English girl, plays and sings to American soldiers twice a day in Eagle Hut, the great American Y. M. C. A. hut in London.

THE WING SLIP

GLENDALE RECEIVES COPY OF PAPER PUBLISHED BY CADET AVIATORS IN FRANCE

No. 5 of a very interesting publication, viz., "The Wing Slip," published by Pericat, 35 rue de la Scellerie, and edited weekly by the cadet aviators in France, has come to the desk of our department of literature and patriotism. It is a one-sheet, two-page paper, six columns wide, and contains a great many items of news, information and fun which army aviators would enjoy reading. The leading place is given to a protest against any reduction in the pay of the bird men, which was inspired by a rumor that legislation in Congress has been proposed to reduce the rank and pay of aviators. A letter strongly opposing any such reduction by Alan R. Hawley, president of the American Aero Club, is published in part as follows:

"A dispatch from France states that American aviators over there are worrying over a report from Washington that there is legislation under consideration intended to revoke the law granting the increase in pay for duty which requires constant participation in aerial flights.

"We beg to submit the following facts to show that it would be very unwise and against the best interests of the United States and the Allies to deprive military aviators of their extra pay for flying duty.

"(1) Aeronautics being still in its infancy, it has not been possible to define exactly what amount of clothing, instruments, books and other equipment a military aviator must have to make him efficient under war conditions. As a result, military aviators at present are only supplied by the government with part of the equipment which they actually need to maintain their efficiency, and even their present salary is insufficient to meet their actual needs.

"(3) There is no other branch of the service outside of the Air Service where the individual—rather than the organization—is the fighting unit and where the difference between victory and disaster depends so largely on the individual's well being and mental alertness.

"(7) At present aviation officers of the Signal Corps and those attached to the Signal Corps while on duty which requires them to participate regularly and frequently in aerial flights, are entitled to an increase in the pay of their grade under their commissions as follows: Aviation officers 25 per cent; junior military aviators 50 per cent; military aviators 75 per cent. Each junior military aviator and each military aviator duly qualified and serving has the rank, pay and allowances of one grade higher than that held by them under their commissions, provided that the ranks under their commissions are not higher than that of captain.

"(8) As their pay is barely sufficient, no changes should be made until the needs of military aviators are better defined and more completely met by the government.

"(10) Should this contemplated legislation go through it will serve to dull, to a considerable extent, the enthusiasm of our flyers, and it will make our task a thousand-fold more difficult, as it will strike at the very heart of the air service organization and make almost impossible the development of the superior esprit de corps needed in the air service to maintain the supremacy of the air.

"Knowing the enormous pressure under which every department of the government is working, we would hesitate to add anything further for your consideration, but we feel that you will agree with us that this matter is of supreme importance."

Other points are mentioned in the letter, but only the most important were mentioned in the "Wing Slip." The campaign which was started in the "Aerial Age," has been taken up by practically all the aeronautical journals in the United States.

A Masonic dinner, which will be a monthly event hereafter among the men of the American Air Service is described, with a list of the guests.

Also a combat practice is announced as follows: "Tomorrow afternoon, if the weather permits, Lieutenants Stovall and Armstrong will go up on the Center Piste for some Combat Flying. Combat flying is the last thing a student learns before he goes to the zone of advance. Two flyers are in the air. One is chasing the other and endeavoring to get on his tail. The other tries to avoid him by acrobatics and at the same time maneuver himself into an advantageous position over his opponent. Incidentally flyers begin to mark their time for the six months' service strip from the day they begin combat flying, as the work is considered as hazardous as flying at the front."

A story is told of a little French boy who attached himself to the Corps and took up his residence at the guard house, where he remained until his father located him and propelled him home "by the lever of his ear."

The reorganization of aero squadrons is thus described: "The shifting about of men in the squadrons, reorganizing them according to trades and adaptation to certain work, has been completed. All the mechanics are now in a mechanical squadron and employed in a machine shop; all the men experienced on planes are in a hangar squadron; all the builders' trades are in the erection and repair squadron, and all men with experience in truck driving and office work have been placed in the transportation squadron. The efficiency of this reorganization is 100 per cent improvement over the old system."

One of the "personals" recites that H. S. Guest, who joined the army as an undertaker, is now undertaking to keep the D. C. machines at work.

It is an entertaining sheet to anybody, but must be particularly so to the bird men at the front.

At the close of her report of the recent State Convention, Mrs. Ruby Smart, president of the Glendale W. C. T. U., was the recipient of a large flower shower by the ladies of the Union consisting of roses, sweet peas and wild phlox, in honor of her birthday.

The open-air Red Cross meeting planned for next Thursday evening will not be held. This meeting was being arranged by Dr. Harrower. His sudden departure to the country makes it advisable to withdraw the plans. Other meetings of a suitable nature will be held in its stead.

Mrs. Lorena Cramer of East Acacia street, who has been entertaining her two little granddaughters, will go to the Imperial Valley the last of the week to return them to their parents and remain there for a visit. She will go by way of San Diego and visit her son, who is at Camp Kearny.

Dr. Jessie A. Russell has been appointed by Miss Julia Lathrop of the Federal Bureau of Education, Washington, to have charge of the work on Children's Year for Los Angeles county. The plans outlined at Washington include a systematic campaign of education along preventive and constructive lines in the care of children, and is planned along the broadest lines. Dr. Russell has received the assurance of the heartiest co-operation from all departments of the county government in what is undoubtedly one of the most vital movements connected with war work. The plan adopted for this county will place the work under the Women's Committee Los Angeles County of Defense and will use the various City Units of the Defense Council in the work in co-operation with other agencies. On Thursday Dr. Russell addressed the Owensmouth Women's Club on "Legislation and Child Welfare," and on Friday the annual meeting of the Presidents' Council in Los Angeles on "The Relation of the County Budget to Welfare Work."

Patriotism and service will be the keynote of the convention.

Dr. Russell will leave on the official train bearing Southern California delegates, Tuesday morning, 9 o'clock, Santa Fe depot.

FLORAL NOVELTIES

Freeman Kelley, the florist and nurseryman, has some interesting novelties in his windows. One is a very unusual white Amaryllis pencilled with carmine which, in the eyes of most people, is very attractive.

He also has among his cut flowers the early dwarf Gladioli, with smaller blooms than the old sorts and flowers studding both sides of the stem. They are in a lovely shade of bright pink and are exceedingly beautiful.

Another specialty is Clerodendron, a shrubby plant with snowy bracts of tender green shaded with pink and terminating in a delicate trumpet-shaped flower marked with purple.

The scarlet cactus, which has attracted much notice in his place of business, is almost out of bloom.

One of the comparatively rare specimens in his nursery stock is a "Ginko" or "Maidenhair Fern Tree," which is a slow-growing ornamental tree of great beauty of flower and leaf and adapted to parkways and lawns.

MR. OGG WILL HANDLE SPEAKERS

Thomas Ogg has been appointed chairman of the speakers committee for the Red Cross drive. He will fill the position vacated by Dr. H. R. Harrower. His work is to provide capable speakers for the various public meetings held during the drive. You may depend upon it that Mr. Ogg will furnish speakers of the highest ability, the kind that you are sorry to have stop talking. All arrangements along this line should be made with Mr. Ogg.

THE CONCRETE SHIPS

Plans for the concrete ships to be built by the U. S. Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation will be ready within six weeks, according to the Emergency Fleet News, published by the shipping board. These plans will be for 7500-ton tankers equipped with reciprocating engines. The first shipyard for the construction of concrete ships will be established at Wilmington, N. C., and it will be a model for all other yards. The carrying out of the concrete shipbuilding program is dependent on congress authorizing the appropriation of $50,000,000, which the shipping board has asked for the purpose. Regarding the concrete shipbuilding program the Emergency Fleet News says:

The Shipping Board does not feel justified in using the appropriation for steel and wood ships on concrete shipbuilding, since concrete ships are still in the initial stage of development. The successful launching of the "Faith," the first large concrete steamer constructed in this country, has done much in showing the practicability of this type of vessel.

The experience gained with concrete ships thus far, it is held, warrants the belief that this type of construction is worth financing. If the new appropriation of $50,000,000 is granted, $35,000,000 would be kept apart as an authorized fund to be spent on concrete construction, the other $15,000,000 being immediately available for starting development of the program.

It is proposed to build five Government concrete shipyards, probably two on the Pacific Coast, one on the Gulf, and two on the Atlantic Coast. The sites for these plants have not yet been decided upon definitely, but probably will be announced soon. The tentative plans call for the construction of 7,500-ton tankers, the great need of oil carriers and the necessity for rapid construction of the concrete type of vessel having entered into the decision of the Shipping Board in this respect. Plans for the vessel will be ready within six weeks. They will be equipped with reciprocating engines.

F. J. Wig, head of the Department of Concrete Ship Construction, believes that the reinforced concrete ship can be built structurally equal to any steel ship. Mr. Wig was sent by the Shipping Board to San Francisco to see the launching of the "Faith," and look into all the details of its construction.

"My information," he said, "assures me with all the certainty possible short of actual experience that a concrete ship will be durable for several years throughout the probable duration of the present war. There are deteriorating elements which may limit the life of a concrete ship to three or four years, but this can be determined only from experience. Our present emergency calls for ships, and their life is not of great importance just now."

BOXING WITH GUNS

The Commission on Training Camp Activities issues the following:

Films showing the relationship between boxing and bayoneting and demonstrating the methods of using the bayonet have been prepared by the Commissions on Training Camp Activities of the War and Navy Departments and distributed for exhibition in the various National Army and National Guard cantonments and naval stations to facilitate the education of the soldiers and sailors along these lines.

Johnny Kilbane, Benny Leonard, Kid McCoy, and James J. Corbett posed for the pictures, illustrating in detail the proper way of starting and landing the different blows and how to put the full force of the body behind them. Their counterparts in bayoneting are demonstrated by Capt. James Donovan, of the Canadian Army, who was instructor in bayonet fighting at Shornecliff, England. Capt. Donovan spent 22 months in the trenches and was wounded at Ypres.

"Bayoneting is boxing with a gun in your hands" is one of the expressive subtitles of the film which afterwards shows Johnny Kilbane starting a left hook for the head of Benny Leonard, and Capt. Donovan using the same movements in sending his bayonet slashing for the neck of an armed antagonist.

The similarity between other blows in boxing and bayoneting is also shown in the film. For instance, a soldier using a right hook to the jaw duplicates the blow when he swings the butt of his gun on the jaw of a foe. In addition, the pictures make clear that a man who has developed speed on his feet through boxing has a decided advantage over his opponent in a duel with cold steel.

Think what the spectacle of cheerful giving means to the enemy.

ACROSS THE WATERS

AMERICAN SOLDIER IN FRANCE SPENDS NOT MORE THAN SIX DOLLARS PER MONTH

The national war work council of the Y. M. C. A. has issued the following:

Who says that Uncle Sam's soldiers over seas are spendthrifts?

Whoever it was that said it is all wrong, anyhow. The latest word from France declares that our men in khaki over there are practising an economy that makes the civilians back home seem wastrels by contrast. The average American soldier spends not more than 20 cents a day, and makes that modest sum pay for his toilet articles, his tobacco, and sweets.

Nearly all our fighting men are saving money. Many of them are "paying for the privilege of fighting for Uncle Sam" by buying Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps enough to make the folks who aren't fighting ashamed of themselves. Almost all American soldiers send money home on pay day.

E. A. Hungerford, one of the Y. M. C. A. men at the front, who helps the boys in khaki with their arrangements for sending money home, and who is in a good position to know how the finances stand, recently wrote back as follows:

"The American soldier is the thriftiest American alive.

"'I have Liberty Bonds, War Savings Stamps, military insurance, and have allotted $15 a month to the folks back home,' said an artilleryman who was in the hut last evening. There are thousands of Uncle Sam's soldiers in France who can truthfully say the same thing. They just seem to have good sense about money matters. On pay day the rush is not to buy knickknacks, but to make some useful disposition of money.

"'I want to send some money home,' is a statement heard constantly by the Young Men's Christian Association worker in France. The 'Y' has purposely made it easy for the soldier to send money home. All he has to do is to leave the money with the man in the hut, get a receipt for it, and indicate the name and address of the person to whom he desires the money sent. The Young Men's Christian Association has arrangements with banking institutions which makes possible the rapid and inexpensive transfer of any amount of money to any bank or person in the United States.

"Our soldiers are thinking straight about money matters. They are not misers by any means, and they are willing to spend a small amount on things that go to make life more enjoyable, but their chief thought is to ensure their economic independence when the war is over and they return to civilian life.

CALIFORNIA POTASH LANDS

Secretary of the Interior Lane announces that the public surveys have been extended over the lands known as Searles Lake, in San Bernardino and Inyo Counties, Cal., and the township plats forwarded to the United States Surveyor General with direction that the requisite copies be promptly furnished to the United States land office at Independence for filing.

Aside from lands patented years ago and lands embraced in subsisting mining claims, there are about 8 square miles of the potash brine zone that are now open to applications for leases, pursuant to the act of October 2, 1917, and the regulations thereunder of March 21, 1918. The United States land office at Independence, Cal., has been instructed to receive applications for leases as soon as the township plats are received, and when the plats have been formally filed 30 days later to forward the applications to the General Land Office for action. In the meantime publication of notice of application may proceed as required by the regulations.

Parties desiring to lease the Searles Lake potash lands can therefore now file their applications in the United States land office at Independence, Cal. Copies of the regulations may be procured from the Commissioner of the General Land Office, Washington, D. C.

The Searles Lake deposit is recognized as a large and available source of commercial potash, and two plants are manufacturing potash from this source at present. Saturated brine deposit is the source of potash now being produced.

Across the Seas They Call

Across the seas from every war-torn nation in the Allied cause there comes the call for Red Cross help.

It comes from soldiers who have grimly faced the gleaming bayonet steel and poison gas and screaming shells, and who now lie with parching throats and throbbing wounds.

It comes from soldiers sick with fever, pneumonia, tuberculosis.

It comes from soldiers crippled, mutilated, blinded, who can no longer fight and must be taught and trained for useful occupations.

It comes from the underfed, shivering, helpless prisoners in the German prison camps.

It comes from little children, orphaned, homeless, slowly starving day by day, by tens and tens of thousands.

It comes from mothers in the pillaged zones of war whose heart and souls have been made numb with horror.

From all these millions of suffering human beings there comes across the seas the call for help—help that because of the frightful burdens placed upon our Allies can not be given unless it be provided by the American Red Cross.

Another hundred million is needed to "carry on."

What will America's answer be?

Every cent of every dollar received for the Red Cross War Fund goes for War Relief.

The American Red Cross is the largest and most efficient organization for the relief of suffering that the World has ever seen.

It is made up almost entirely of volunteer workers, the higher executives being without exception men accustomed to large affairs, who are in almost all cases giving their services without pay.

It is supported entirely by its membership fees and by voluntary contributions.

It is today bringing relief to suffering humanity, both military and civil, in every War-torn allied country.

It plans to help the work of restoration throughout the world.

It feeds and clothes entire populations in times of great calamity.

It is there to help your soldier boy in his time of need.

With its thousands of workers, its tremendous stores and smooth-running transportation facilities, it is serving as America's advance guard—and thus helping to win the war.

Congress authorizes it.

President Wilson heads it.

The War Department audits its accounts.

Your Army, your Navy and your Allies enthusiastically endorse it.

Twenty-two million Americans have joined it.
